DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed on April 30, 2007 has been considered but is ineffective to place the application in condition for allowance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. With regard to claim 12, it is unclear what is meant by, ...their longitudinal axis is substantially parallel to the rotational axis of the chain wheel while defining saw dust openings therebetween? Between what? Additionally the language, “their” is confusing, what does their refer to? Examiner suggests clear and positive recitation with proper antecedent basis to what exactly “their” refers to, i.e. said strip or said chain or said chainsaw. Further Examiner notes no longitudinal axis has been positively recited within the claim. Additionally, it is unclear what is meant by, “...movement paths formed as tangential extensions of the chain and being generated at each turning point of the guide bar...” no turning point of the guide bar has been positively recited furthermore, the chain, chainsaw, guide bar and chain wheel are merely listed elements within the claim without clear mechanical cooperation between the elements positively recited.

Art Unit: 3725

With regard to claim 14, "...the strip is arched so that a surface thereof is in a movement path extending toward the respective strip" is unclear. If the recitation, "a surface thereof" is meant to refer to a surface of the strip, how is that surface of the strip extending toward the respective strip?

Claim 15, states, the strips are arranged "in" the saw casing, however the parent claim 1, states, the casing comprising strips. Therefore the language of claim 15 appears to contradict that of claim 1.

With regard to claim 24, there is no antecedent basis for the recitation, "the chain rotates". Additionally regarding claim 24, it is unclear what the plural strips are operably connected to. Examiner notes the recitation; "adjacent" does not positively recite any mechanical cooperation or interrelationship, i.e. operable connection.

Examiner notes the above listing of 35 U.S.C. 112 rejections is not conclusive. Applicant is required to review all claims for clarity, definiteness and proper antecedent basis concerns for compliance the 35 U.S.C. 112. Although claims 12-24 do not have an applied art rejection, the claims as presently presented are not deemed allowable.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed April 30, 2007 have been carefully considered and are persuasive. Accordingly the rejection(s) in view of Wiener et al. and Seigneur have been withdrawn.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
